

RELIGIOUS

A Resume of Events in Religious Circles For Present and Future

—James Wilson and Buckner Woodford, Jr., are recent additions to the congregation of the Paris Presbyterian church.

—The Pastor's Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will hold an all-day meeting in the parlors of the church to day. All the members are urged to be present.

—The Woman's Missionary Society of the Christian church made their Easter offering Friday afternoon, at which time more than $300 was secured for missions. The Woman's and Young Woman's Missionary Society held a memorial service in honor of Rev. Dr. Sheldon, who was murdered while engaged in missionary work in the Far East.

THE NEW IDEAL OF NORMAL

Normality surely is a good goal, even if some of those who have tried to talk the country into that desirable state did not know how to spell the word, but like the golden age, it is rather elusive. Most people who talk loosely about getting back to normal conditions have vaguely in mind some time before the war, but there is no agreement as to the exact time when American industry and general business conditions were in the happy state now thought of as normal.

The steel industry is spoken of as a pretty good barometer of business. Steel is picking up. There are more orders for it and the manufacturers already are beginning to raise questions as to the time for delivery. Such is the report of one of the most authoritative trade reviews. It is estimated that production already ranges at from 60 to 70 per cent. of capacity.

Superficially this estimate does not seem so stimulating, but again the question of standards enters in. The fact is that 65 per cent. of present capacity runs pretty close to the full volume of output in the years 1912 and 1913, usually thought of as normal. Nearly all the essential industries were greatly expanded during the war. In the same way all judgments of effort, of accomplishment and of values were much enlarged. It therefore becomes not a little difficult to know what to expect when the new normal state shall have been attained.

It ought to be reasonable to suppose that normal must now take on a new meaning.

EX-KENTUCKIAN HEADS NEWS-PAPER IN VIRGINIA

Frank S. Newell, formerly of Maysville, has been made president of the Norfolk Post Publishing Company at Norfolk, Va., publisher of the Norfolk Post, according to a telegram received by his mother, Mrs. Jennie Newell, of Maysville. Mr. Newell, who is 35 years old, had been connected with daily newspapers in Cincinnati and Cleveland.

The man who helps a woman murder her husband in order to marry her himself at least deserves credit for possessing physical courage.

The only thing that prevents a man from going to the people next door just now to call a spade a spade is the fact that it is his rake they have.

DEATHS

Life Is But A Brief Span, A Debt That All Must Pay

HISPSHIRE

—Gragg Hipshire, aged thirty-six, residing in the Hutchison vicinity, a veteran of the world war, died at his home Friday night, from the effect of wounds received in action. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, at four o'clock, with services conducted at the grave in Old Union Cemetery. The pall-bearers were, R. L. Harp, John Henry Harp, Joe Garnett, Roe Mullen and Abram Harp.

PARVIN

—Mr. H. C. Parvin, aged seventy-seven, a prominent farmer of the Clintonville vicinity, died at his home, near Paris, at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning, after a long illness. Mr. Parvin had been a sufferer for thirteen years from rheumatism.

He was a son of the late Silas and Anna Buchanan Parvin, pioneer residents of the county, and had spent the larger part of his long life in the Clintonville vicinity, where he had a large circle of friends. In late years he had been an invalid, the nature of his disease precluding his participation in the active affairs of life. He was a man of quiet, unassuming manners and well-liked by all who knew him. He is survived by his widow and several nieces.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon, with services conducted at the grave in the Clintonville Cemetery, by Rev. R. H. Ellet, assisted by Rev. Newton Shropshire.

The pall-bearers will be: Active, Lary Buchanan, Simon Buchanan, Lapsley Haskins, Jno. Madris, Gerald Donaldson; Honorary, J. T. Bates, E. P. Weathers, Benj. Woodford, Fithian Buckner, Clay Gaitskill, Asa Sphar, Dr. John Hart, James Winn.

SCHWARTZ

—Henry J. Schwartz, aged thirty-six, a former resident of Paris, died in a Columbus, Ohio, hospital, last week, following an operation. Mr. Schwartz was a son of the late Henry J. Schwartz, of Paris, who was connected with the Adams Express Co. for many years. He was a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schwartz, of Paris, and a nephew of Mrs. Thos. A. McLaughlin, of Lexington. The Columbus (Ohio) State Journal says:

"Death came very suddenly to Mr. Schwartz. He went to the hospital Wednesday and the operation was performed Thursday afternoon. A blood clot formed a short time afterward."

"Mr. Swartz was born in Paris, Ky., coming to Columbus 11 years ago. He first took the agency for the Packard car, but a short time later formed the Standard Motor Car Co., which sells Hudson and Essex cars. He was also president of the B. M. Ellis Co., distributors of Lincoln automobiles."

"Mr. Schwartz's rise in the business world had been little short of phenomenal. Born in the heart of the Kentucky horse country, in early youth he gained an expert knowledge of horses, and was chosen as a member of a consular staff in the Philippines because of his training. Seeing the rapid rise of the automobile, he shifted his allegiance, and, after a course of training in the mechanical end of the automobile business, established himself as a salesman. He never forgot the mechanical side, however, and it has been said that much of the excellent service rendered by his firm was due to his being able to check that side as well as the selling end of the business."

"Mr. Schwartz was vice-president of the Columbus Automobile Club and a member of the Columbus Country Club, the Scioto Club, Chamber of Commerce, Columbus Club and the Columbus Athletic Club. For several years he served in the consular service in the Philippines."

"Mr. Schwartz leaves a widow, one son, Harry Schwartz, Jr., his mother, Mrs. Nan Schwartz, of Chicago, and one brother, James Schwartz, of Minneapolis."

The funeral was held in Columbus, yesterday morning, at ten o'clock, with services conducted at the residence, 2012 Termont Road, Upper Arlington. The interment took place in Greenlawn Cemetery, in Columbus.

REAL ESTATE DEALS

Through the real estate firm of Harris, Speakes & Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crombie sold Saturday at public sale their handsome bungalow, on Second street, to James Daugherty, for $5,010. The sale was well-attended, and the bidding spirited.

The home of Mr. Ed. F. Cantrill, on Winchester street, which was badly damaged by fire some time ago, is to be rebuilt as it was originally. The work of restoration has begun. When completed the home will be occupied by Mr. Cantrill and his daughter, Miss Lena Cantrill.

BOOSTING BUSY BUSES

The Kelat correspondence of the Falmouth Outlook puts in this boost for a Paris industry:

"Take a bus? This interrogatory is often heard these days in Kelat. The fact is, Mr. Weckesser may be seen twice a day as he passes from Paris to Falmouth and return. The bus is as cozy as a home and does certainly merit all the encouragement possible. It will stop along the roadside at any old place and pick you up or let you off. Take a bus; it's as handy as a pocket in a shirt."

CAUGHT BETWEEN ROAD ROLLERS

Fred Fister, Superintendent of Public Work, was severely bruised about the body yesterday morning by being caught between two big road rollers, while he was superintending the removal from one place to another. Mr. Fister using one of the rollers to push the other, being held together by a long pole. When Mr. Fister went between the machines to adjust the pole, it came loose, permitting the two machines to come together. Mr. Fister was removed to his home, where his injuries were given medical attention.
